On the Court's own motion and in accordance with § 3142(f) of the Bail Reform Act of 1984 (18 U.S.C. § 3141 et seq.), a detention hearing was held on May 27, 2008, to determine whether defendant Jose GOMEZ-Garduno, should be held in custody pending trial on the grounds that he is a flight risk. Assistant U. S. Attorney John F. Weis, appeared on behalf of the United States. Diane Regan, of Federal Defenders of San Diego, Inc., appeared on behalf of the Defendant.

Based on the evidence proffered by the United States and the Defendant, the pretrial services officer, and the criminal complaint issued against the Defendant on May 27, 2008, by this Court, the Court concludes that the following facts establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the Defendant is required.

REASONS FOR DETENTION

A. There is probable cause to believe that the Defendant committed the offense charged in Criminal Complaint No. 08MJ8473, namely, Deported alien Found in the United States (Felony), in violation of Title 8, United States Code, § 1326.

B. The Defendant faces a substantial period of time in custody if convicted of the offense charged in the Complaint. He, therefore, has a strong motive to flee.

C. Furthermore, the Defendant is a citizen of Mexico and has no legal right to live or work in the United States. Bail is, therefore, impractical as defendant if released on bail would be taken into immigration custody and remain in custody or would be deported and unavailable for further proceedings before this Court.

D. Based upon the Court's findings there is no condition or combination or conditions that will reasonably assure the appearance of the Defendant as required.
